VOL. LXV., No. 12. NEW YORK, March 19, 1904. WHOLE No. 1677

The Most Important and Interesting Book of the Year

An Autobiography by Herbert Spencer

An American friend of Spencer who has read the book, says:

"It is as broad and many-sided as human experience, and the marvel and charm of it is its simple, straightforward, and obvious truthfulness. It seems to me to exceed any of his former works in interest and practical value; and I have been a constant reader of his writings from their first publication in this country. Mr. Spencer's supreme loyalty to truth and his native frankness have made his account of his life very open and unreserved. Lest he might err in this direction he got the advice of confidential friends. After reading it and approving it entirely, Huxley remarked that it reminded him of the 'Confessions' of Rousseau, without any of the objectionable features of the work."

With many Illustrations. 2 volumes, 8vo, cloth, in a box, $5.50, net.

Postage, 40 cents additional.

ORDER No. 11

By CAROLINE ABBOT STANLEY

An intense love-story of the turbulent days of border warfare, when the jayhawkers and Quantrell's men terrorized the contiguous counties of Kansas and Missouri.

The story takes its name from one of the most dramatic measures of the Civil War, "General Order No. 11," the enactment of which drove many Missouri families from their pillaged homes into a hostile land. It begins before the war with the youth and simple joys of the men and women who later find their love and political sympathies at odds. Full of convincing realism, with flesh-and-blood characters, true to their day and upbringing, this story is one of the most stirring and satisfying of modern times.

12mo, 400 pages, illustrated. $1.50.

MY AIR-SHIPS

By ALBERTO SANTOS-DUMONT

The thrilling story at first hand of this intrepid Brazilian's trials and successes in aërial navigation.

Santos-Dumont has experienced every sensation in connection with sailing in the aërial sea, from the old-time spherical balloon to his latest air-ship, with which he ascends or descends, turns or stops at will. Between these two extremes, however, lies the marvelous story of how he solved the problem of aërial navigation while he faced death in many disasters. He describes the sensations of flight into space; dining a mile above the earth; losing control of the balloon; ascending at night; descending into an unknown country; and the terrors of being launched into the midst of a thunder-storm. He also describes in detail his various air-ships, their inception, construction, and behavior. It is a vivid narrative, free from technicality, illustrated with 55 full-page pictures from photographs, which tell a graphic story in themselves. 12mo, 375 pages. $1.40 net (postage 14c.).

TILLIE A MENNONITE MAID

By HELEN R. MARTIN

A humorous and pathetic story of the Pennsylvania Dutch.

The Brooklyn Eagle says that this story does for the Pennsylvania Dutch "what Mary Wilkins, Sarah Orne Jewett, and others of their school have done for the common folk of New England; what Hamlin Garland has done for the prairie-dwellers, and Owen Wister for the cowboy."

"Certainly there is no book offering of the present year that can approach it in its qualities of wholesome humor and tender sympathy."—Republican, Denver.

FOR ALL AGES

Readers of all ages will find its pages full of curious and interesting information.

THE original four-dollar edition of this book was sold out within two weeks of its publication on February 6, and a large demand made evident for an edition at a low price, in accordance with which, on March 5, we issued the following:

KOREA

"A timely book, a well-considered, matured and informing work by a man who knows the country from end to end and can put pictures on paper with consummate ease."—London Academy.

By ANGUS HAMILTON

Illustrated with map. $1.50 net

New York Sun: "It is a singularly useful as well as a timely book."

Philadelphia Press: "An absolutely up-to-date description of Korea and its people."

Scribner Spring Publications

A Beautiful Book for Easter Giving

PRAYERS WRITTEN AT VAILIMA

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

With introduction by MRS. STEVENSON. 50 cents net

THE simple, beautiful, and characteristic Prayers that Robert Louis Stevenson wrote for use in the family worship of his household at Vailima have been treasured by many of his readers as a comforting and heartening legacy of his courageous spirit. The knowledge of them has been limited hitherto, however, by the fact that they have appeared only in his collected works, or in fragmentary unauthorized versions; and their publication in a separate form will gratify a wish widely felt. Mrs Stevenson has contributed a brief introduction, explanatory of the circumstances under which they were written, to the little book in which they appear.

LITERARY LIVES

Edited by ROBERTSON NICOLL, LL.D.

THIS series is intended to furnish biographical and critical studies of well-known authors of all countries. Distinguished writers, British and American, will contribute to it. While much freedom has been allowed to the contributors, it will be found that the aim of supplying full critical and expository estimates has been kept steadily in view. In many cases additions have been made to the store of existing information, and the books should take a place, not only for their biographical value, but as helpful companions and interpreters in the study of literary masterpieces.

MATTHEW ARNOLD
By G. W. E. Russell

CARDINAL NEWMAN

Scribner's New Importations

THE LIFE OF EDWARD FITZGERALD

By THOMAS WRIGHT. With many illustrations. 2 vols., 8vo, $7.50 net.

An important biography that will be welcomed by the large and rapidly increasing body of admirers of Edward Fitzgerald. It contains a great amount of new matter, and many unrecorded anecdotes, and throws new and interesting sidelights on the life of this great letter-writer and fascinating man of genius.

IN THE UTTERMOST EAST

Being an account of investigation among the natives and Russian convicts of the Island of Sakhalin, with notes of travel in Korea, Siberia, and Manchuria. By CHARLES H. HAWES. With numerous illustrations and maps. 8vo, $4.50 net.

JOHN ADDINGTON SYMONDS

A Biography Compiled from His Papers and Correspondence

By HORATIO F. BROWN. In one volume. With portraits and illustrations. 8vo, $2.00 net.

Mr. Brown's Life is especially interesting, since Symonds had a remarkable gift of introspection, took himself very seriously, and judged himself with exact justice. For this reason, and because his aim, which was very high, was always at least as interesting as his accomplishment, his Life has been considered by some critics more noteworthy than even his monumental History of the Renaissance.

FAMOUS ART CITIES—Pompeii

No. 1. POMPEII. By RICHARD ENGELMANN. Translated by TALFOURD ELY, M.A., F.S.A. With 144 illustrations. Square 8vo, $1.50 net.

The first volume of a splendidly illustrated series under the title of "Famous Art Cities." The succeeding volumes will treat of Venice, Florence, Rome, Siena, Ravenna, Nuremberg and Cairo, and form excellent supplementary guides for the traveler of artistic tastes.

GODS AND FIGHTING MEN

The story of the Tuatha de Danaan and of the Fianna of Ireland, arranged and put into English by LADY GREGORY, translator of "Cuchulain of Muirthemne." With a preface by W. B. YEATS. 12mo, $2.00 net.

A new volume uniform with "Cuchulain of Muirthemne" by this delightful writer and skilled translator.

THE FRUIT GARDEN

By GEORGE BUNYARD, V. M. H., and OWEN THOMAS, V. M. H. A manual embracing all the best Varieties, forming a Complete Guide for the Cultivation of British Fruits, inside and out of doors, by the most modern methods. With photographic and other illustrations. Square 8vo, $7.50 net.

PHILIPS'S HANDY-VOLUME ATLAS

OF THE WORLD. An entirely new and enlarged edition. With 72 newly engraved maps, with statistical notes and complete index. 16mo, $1.00 net.

A NATURALIST IN THE GUIANAS

By EUGENE ANDRÉ, F.R.G.S., F.L.S., M.S.A. With a preface by Dr. J. Scott Keltie. With 34 illustrations and a map. 8vo, $3.50 net.

CROWE AND CAVALCASELLE'S HISTORY OF PAINTING

PAINTING IN ITALY, UMBRIA, FLORENCE AND SIENA, from the 2d to the 16th Century. With 200 illustrations. New and completely revised edition, Edited by Prof. R. Langton Douglas and S. Arthur Strong. 3 vols, 8vo (vols. 1 and 2 ready), $6.00 net per volume. (To be completed in six volumes.)

This standard work has been for many years out of print, and second-hand copies have commanded a very high price. This new edition will contain the final corrections of Sir Joseph Crowe, which for the first two volumes are so thorough as to amount in parts to a rewriting of the book.

IN ENGLISH HOMES

THE INTERNAL CHARACTER, FURNITURE, AND ADORNMENT OF SOME OF THE MOST NOTABLE HOUSES OF ENGLAND. Historically depicted from photographs specially taken by Charles Latham. With 350 beautiful illustrations. 4to, $15.00 net

A superb book, profusely illustrated, displaying the interiors of many of England's most beautiful and historic houses, and providing a wealth of illustrations for the architect, decorator, and lover of artistic surroundings.

A SHORT HISTORY OF ANCIENT PEOPLES

By ROBINSON SOUTTAR, M.A., D.C.L. With an Introduction by Prof. A. H. Sayce, D.D. With maps. Large 8vo, $3.00 net.

"A scholarly work of commanding interest."—The Outlook (England).
The annals of ten ancient peoples during four millenniums, as here compressed into seven hundred pages of small pica, testify to our author's scholarship, to his possession of the rare gift of picturesque narrative power, and to his absolute freedom from the influence of the over-lord whose ghost still dominates the majority of our historians—we mean Dr. Dryasdust."—The Spectator.

The work is unique in showing material to be found nowhere else. Profusely illustrated. Net, $1.60. Postage 15 cents.

TWO SMALL VOLUMES OF UNUSUAL INTEREST:

Optimism

By Helen Keller

"Everybody should read the essay on 'Optimism.' Helen Keller, blind and deaf all except the first months of the twenty-three years of her existence, has written in this latest essay sentences not unworthy of Emerson. Some of them might become immortal."—NORMAN HAPGOOD, in Collier's Weekly.

Printed in two colors from special type by Merrymount Press. 75 cts. net. Postage 8 cents.

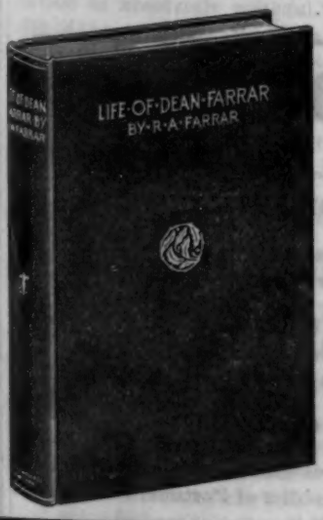
The Merchant of Venice

Being Vol. IV of the new "First Folio" Shakespeare, edited by Charlotte Porter, and Helen A. Clarke.

The original reading of Shakespeare's play is here restored in a popular text for the first time. The book is a veritable pocket variorum.

"Will hold a place by itself among all the reprints of Shakespeare."—The Outlook.

Type and presswork by De Vinne. Cloth, 50 cts. Limp Leather, 75 cts. net. Postage 5 cents.



TWO IMPORTANT BIOGRAPHICAL WORKS:

The Life of Dean Farrar

By his son, Dr. Reginald A. Farrar

This authorized biography of the late Dean will be found of high interest and value. Dean Farrar was one of the strongest personalities in England for more than half a century; and the story of his life, here told for the first time, throws light upon many other people of his day. With portrait. Net, $2.00. Postage 20 cents.

Ruskin Relics

By W. G. Collingwood

Important Announcements

Ready April 25th The New Book

By ROBERT NEILSON STEPHENS

Author of "An Enemy to the King," "Philip Winwood," etc., etc.

THE BRIGHT FACE OF DANGER

A Romance of the Days of Henry IV.

12mo, cloth, decorated cover, with illustrations by Harry C. Edwards. $1.50.

In the "Bright Face of Danger" Mr. Stephens has written the most stirring tale of his career. In this story of the adventures of the son of The Sieur de la Tournoire, made famous by "An Enemy to the King," he has done what Dumas did in "Twenty Years After." As none other among modern romancists can write, he has again written for our entertainment, of fair women and brave men, of the gay life of the Châteaux and the dangers of the road, of hairbreadth escapes, thrilling rescues and gallant combats.

Ready in May

THE WATCHERS OF THE TRAILS

By CHARLES G. D. ROBERTS

Author of "Earth's Enigmas," "The Kindred of the Wild," etc., etc.

Uniform with "The Kindred of the Wild," with over fifty drawings by Charles Livingston Bull. Large 12mo, decorated cover, $2.00.

Professor Roberts's animal stories stand alone in the world of fiction as absolutely truthful and sympathetic descriptions of the life of the untamed. He is the Master of his Art, and his enthusiasm and love of nature so colors his work that the savage instincts of the beasts of the forest, and the elemental problems of living, are never mere narrative, but always absorbingly wonderful portrayals of the ways of Mother Earth with her children.

Ready April 15th

AZALIM, A Romance of Old Judea

By MARK ASHTON

Author of "She Stands Alone."

12mo, decorated cover, fully illustrated, $1.50.

The author has written another romance founded on Biblical history even more intensely vital and interest compelling than his first. The career of the infamous Jezebel, with her dark intrigues and daring ambitions, furnishes the main theme, while a most delightful romance of the Shepherd Azalim, who for a time forsakes true love and the God of his fathers to follow "The Painted Woman," stirs the heart and holds the attention.

DODD, MEAD & COMPANY'S SPRING BOOKS, 1904

FICTION

GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

The Day of the Dog. By GEORGE BARR MCCUTCHEON, author of "Graustark," "The Sherrods," etc. With full-page illustrations in color by Harrison Fisher and numerous decorations by Margaret and Helen Maitland Armstrong.
12mo, cloth, $1.25

The thousands of readers who enjoyed the vivid and sustained but somewhat serious imagination of "Graustark" will be delighted with the same power of imagination displayed in another manner. It required imaginative power to write "The Day of the Dog," but of a light and playful kind that discloses Mr. McCutcheon as a humorist of no mean ability. How the dog, who is very much alive, has his day, during which he occupies the centre of the stage, and how, springing from the day of the dog, a lawsuit is begun which culminates in a love-suit and transforms a disappointed lawyer into a happy lover, is told with genuine humor and a brilliant and ingenious fancy that never flags.

MELVIN L. SEVERY

The Darrow Enigma. By MELVIN L. SEVERY. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, . $1.50

The crime which was left for the friends of John Darrow to solve was so novel and inexplicable as well to deserve the name of enigma. From the minute the crime is enacted, through the tracking down of the strange and baffling clues, to the astounding dénouement, the mystery is sustained and the interest grows. "The Darrow Enigma" possesses the somewhat rare merit among detective stories of having a new and thoroughly interesting plot.

MRS. HUGH FRASER

The Stolen Emperor. A Tale of Old Japan. By MRS. HUGH FRASER, author of "A Diplomatist's Wife in Japan," "Marna's Mutiny," etc. 12mo, cloth, . $1.50

To those who think that Japan has leaped at one bound from barbarism to civilization within the last fifty years, Mrs. Fraser's story will come as a revelation. The magnificent imperial cities, the stately court life, the grim feudal castles swarming with men-at-arms, show in Japan of three hundred years ago a civilization as advanced in many stages as that of mediæval Europe. All these are the background for a story which moves along at a stirring pace through the intrigues and perils which beset an Empress who tried to rescue her son from the power of an usurper. Mrs. Fraser's long residence in Japan renders her well qualified to write a story of that country.

S. R. CROCKETT

Strong Mac. By S. R. CROCKETT, author of "Joan of the Sword Hand," "Cinderella," etc. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, ... $1.50

A story of unusual interest and one that ranks among the best that Mr. Crockett has written.

Dodd, Mead and Company's Spring Books, 1904

JOSEPHINE CAROLINE SAWYER

All's Fair in Love. By JOSEPHINE CAROLINE SAWYER, author of "Every Inch a King." 12mo, cloth, with eight full-page illustrations in colors, ... $1.50

The popularity of Miss Sawyer's first book, "Every Inch a King," ensures a favorable hearing for her second story. Like its predecessor, Miss Sawyer's new book is, first of all, a love story.

MRS. HENRY DUDENEY

The Story of Susan. By MRS. HENRY DUDENEY, author of "Spindle and Plough," "Robin Brilliant," etc. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, ... $1.50

A love story in Mrs. Dudeney's lightest, happiest vein.

DR. WILLIAM BARRY

The Dayspring. By DR. WILLIAM BARRY, author of "Arden Massiter," "The Two Standards," etc. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.50

Henry Guiron goes to Paris aflame to ally himself with the socialistic movement which culminated in the Paris Commune. There he falls in love with a beautiful and aristocratic young widow who is exposed to a very strange and insidious form of danger. His love and his political beliefs force him in different directions, and it seems evident that he will be forced to choose between his love and death for the cause of his choice.

RUSSELL-SICHEL

The Woodhouse Correspondence. By GEORGE W. E. RUSSELL and EDITH SICHEL. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.25

Studies in idiosyncrasy these letters are called by the authors. And they are the cleverest, wittiest and at the same time the keenest studies that we have seen in a long time. This is an excellent book to counteract a fit of the blues.

FRANCES AYMAR MATHEWS

Pamela Congreve. By FRANCES AYMAR MATHEWS, author of "When Lady Peggy Goes to Town," etc. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, ... $1.50

Like "Lady Peggy," this is primarily a charming picture of a bewitching woman. "Pamela Congreve" is a fascinating heroine, and from the time when, as a raw country girl, she joins a troupe of strolling players until, as the most popular actress in London, she has to defend herself from her hosts of admirers, her madcap career is told with Miss Mathews' accustomed sparkle and vivacity.

EDWARD W. TOWNSEND

"Sure." By EDWARD W. TOWNSEND, author of "Chimmie Fadden," "A Daughter of the Tenements," etc. 16mo, cloth, illustrated, ... $0.75

The same old "Chimmie Fadden," only a little shrewder and a little funnier, discusses the theatre, college football, the police force, motor cycles, some of the doings of society, the love affairs of his friend, the Duchess, etc. This is the funniest Chimmie Fadden book that Mr. Townsend has written.

MAX PEMBERTON

A Daughter of the States. By MAX PEMBERTON, author of "The Gold Wolf," "The Garden of Swords," etc. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth, ... $1.50

This story opens in mid-ocean, and most of the action takes place upon the sea, but it is brought to a most satisfactory close in England. The action of the story never for a moment flags and the interest is admirably sustained.

Miscellaneous Books

WILHELM LÜBKE

Outlines of the History of Art. By WILHELM LÜBKE, author of "History of Architecture," "History of the Renaissance in France," etc. Translated from the latest German Editions. Edited, REVISED AND MUCH ENLARGED BY RUSSELL STURGIS. Illustrated, 2 vols., large 8vo, cloth. Probably net, $10.00

A Standard Work

Lübke's "History of Art" has long been the standard book on this subject, notable for accuracy in the statements made, and a desire to be temperate and just, with an excellent sense of proportion that rarely permits the author to give undue consideration to any one portion of his subject. In his treatment of German architecture, both in the Gothic period and in the time of the Renaissance, he supplies information on just these parts of the general subject that has been sadly wanting in our popular books. This book is of such importance that the publishers have retranslated the last German edition and, at great expense, entirely reset the book, adding to it many illustrations. In addition, the work has now been thoroughly revised and brought up to date, both editorially and pictorially, by Mr. Sturgis, who has also supplied much valuable additional matter.

The illustrations are a special feature, there being nearly 1000 text pictures, over 100 full-page illustrations and several full-pages in color.

ESTHER SINGLETON

Japan. Described by great Writers and Travellers, and profusely illustrated. Edited by ESTHER SINGLETON, author of "Great Pictures," "London," "A Guide to the Opera," etc., etc. 8vo, cloth, illustrated, ... net, $1.60

This book will appeal to the many readers who are interested in that most interesting country, Japan. And it will appeal to them not by offering statistics and dry facts, but by presenting in the words of well-known writers and travellers their impressions and descriptions of various features of the country.

MAURICE MAETERLINCK

The Double Garden. By MAURICE MAETERLINCK, author of "Wisdom and Destiny," "The Life of the Bee," etc. 12mo, cloth, ... net, $1.40

These essays are in a lighter vein than those in his last book, "The Buried Temple," and should therefore appeal to a still larger class of readers.

ARTHUR BARTLETT MAURICE AND FREDERIC TABER COOPER

The History of the Nineteenth Century in Caricature. 8vo, with over 200 illustrations. Handsomely printed. . . . . net, $2.50

The first book describing, on a scale of any breadth, an art which has played s vital a part in moulding the history of nations in recent times.

LEWIS H. MORGAN

The League of the Iroquois. By LEWIS HENRY MORGAN. Thoroughly revised by Herbert M. Lloyd, with many additions, and illustrated with colored frontispiece, plates and maps. 1 vol., 8vo, cloth. . . . . Probably net, $5.00

This is a popular reprint of the de luxe edition published two years ago, all of which was sold before the date of publication.

LAVINIA HART

When a Maid Marries. By LAVINIA HART. Small 12mo, cloth, . net, $1.0

This little book is an attempt to set forth some of the problems which are bound to confront the young woman who is contemplating matrimony.

Dodd, Mead and Company's Spring Books, 1904

ELIZABETH McGARY

An American Girl in Mexico. By ELIZABETH MCGARY. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth, net, $1.00

This is the story of an American girl's visit in the home of a well-to-do Mexican family. What she saw, what she did, how she lived, the people she met, all are described in a delightfully fresh and entertaining manner.

LEWIS AND CLARK

Original Journals of Lewis and Clark. Edited by REUBEN GOLD THWAITES, editor of "Wisconsin Historical Collections," "The Jesuit Relations and Allied Documents," etc.; author of "The Colonies" in the Epochs of American History Series, "Historic Waterways," etc. With numerous illustrations. Probably in 8 vols.

Now Published Complete for the First Time.

The original journals of the Lewis and Clark expedition, written during their exploration of the territory between the Mississippi and the mouth of the Columbia, from 1804 to 1806, are now in the possession of the American Philosophical Society of Philadelphia. Although these journals have formed the basis for many published accounts of the expedition, they have never before been made public in the exact form and manner in which they were actually written by the explorers. A still more remarkable fact is that the accounts heretofore published have been not only more of a paraphrase than a reproduction, but they have totally ignored a great mass of valuable information which is now for the first time given to the public.

FRANCES B. CALLAWAY

Studies for Conversation. By FRANCES B. CALLAWAY, author of "Charm and Courtesy in Letterwriting." 16mo, cloth, ... net, $0.85

Miss Callaway, whose little book on the art of letterwriting is well known, has here set down some guides for conversation which are extremely suggestive.

ALFRED TENNYSON

In Memoriam. By ALFRED TENNYSON. With a Commentary by L. Morel, LL.D. 16mo, leather, ... net, $1.00

A new and carefully annotated edition of the poem.

GEORGE BORROW

Isopel Berners. By GEORGE BORROW. With introduction and notes by Thomas Seccombe. 16mo, leather, ... net, $1.00

A handy and prettily made edition of George Borrow's masterpiece.

MRS. PICKERING

Memoirs of Anna Maria Wilhelmina Pickering. Edited by SPENCER PICKERING. Illustrated, 8vo, cloth, ... net, $4.00

In the flood of books of gossip, political, social, literary, and artistic, no work seems lately to have excited more interest in England than the "Memoirs of Anna Maria Wilhelmina Pickering; Edited by Her Son." Mrs. Pickering's journal is a mine of fresh and lively anecdote touching royalty and nobility, including such personages as the Duke of Wellington, Lord Rosebery, Queen Victoria, etc.

ANDREW LANG

A History of Scotland. By ANDREW LANG. To be completed in 4 volumes. Vol. III. ready shortly. 8vo, cloth, each vol., ... special net, $3.50

Vols. I. and II. already published.

It was originally intended to publish this work in three volumes, but as the author finds that his material exceeds his original estimate, it has been decided to extend the work to four volumes.

Dodd, Mead and Company's Spring Books, 1904

MY COMMENCEMENT

My Commencement. Cloth, 12mo, ... net, $1.00

This book, which is made in the style of "Books I Have Read," "Plays I Have Seen," etc., will be found to be a convenient form in which to keep a record of one's commencement and all the interesting facts connected with it.

GEORGE GISSING

Charles Dickens. By GEORGE GISSING. Third Edition. 12mo, cloth, . $2.00

The recent death of George Gissing has attracted considerable attention to his works, and in particular to his excellent book on Charles Dickens. In response to the demand the publishers present herewith a third edition of this deservedly popular book.

DAVID S. MELDRUM

Holland and the Hollanders. By DAVID S. MELDRUM. A new edition. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth, ... $2.00

CHRISTIAN ARCHIBALD HERTER

The Influence of Pasteur on Medical Science. By CHRISTIAN ARCHIBALD HERTER, M.D. Cloth, 16mo, ... net, $1.00

An address delivered before the Medical School of Johns Hopkins.

ANSON PHELPS STOKES

Cruising in the Caribbean with a Camera. By ANSON PHELPS STOKES, formerly Vice Commodore of the New York Yacht Club. 12mo, flexible cloth, illustrated, net, $1.25

An entertaining account of a voyage around the Caribbean Sea in the Commodore's yacht "Sea Fox," and illustrated with pictures from his own camera.

W. ROBERTSON NICOLL, LL.D.

The Expositor's Greek Testament. Edited by W. ROBERTSON NICOLL, editor of The Expositor, "The Expositor's Bible Series," etc. It will be complete in four volumes.

A Monumental Work

Volume III., containing: The Second Epistle to the Corinthians, by the Very Rev. Dean Bernard, D.D.; The Epistle to the Galatians, by the Rev. Frederick Rendall, M.A.; The Epistle to the Ephesians, by the Rev. Principal Salmond, D.D.; The Epistle to the Philippians, by the Rev. H. A. A. Kennedy, D.Sc.; The Epistle to the Colossians, by Professor A. S. Peake, M.A. $7.50

"The Expositor's Greek Testament" is on the plan of "Dean Alford's Greek Testament," and has replaced it as the standard Greek Testament obtainable to-day.

WILLIAM HENRY VENABLE

Saga of the Oak and other Poems. By WILLIAM HENRY VENABLE, author of "A Dream of Empire," "Tom Tad," etc, etc. 12mo, cloth, ... net, $1.20

HARPER'S SPRING BOOKS

LUX CRUCIS — Samuel M. Gardenhire

An intimate picture in which the Apostle Paul, Nero's corrupt court, the burning of Rome, and the final triumph of the Cross figure conspicuously. And through it all runs the tale of a Roman officer's love for a Christian maid—a love story of strangely vital power and charm. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

THE JEWEL OF SEVEN STARS — Bram Stoker

By the author of "Dracula"

An absorbing story of Egyptian mystery that hangs over the tomb of a queen of ancient Egypt, about whose mummied remains strange preparations for her resurrection are discovered by an English scholar. He undertakes to carry out the plans of the dead queen, and mystery after mystery develops as the Great Experiment progresses. The denouement is most astonishing. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

BUSINESS EDUCATION AND ACCOUNTANCY — Charles Waldo Haskins

By the author of "How to Keep Household Accounts"

An exposition of practical, up-to-date methods in business administration, with a strong plea for the recognition of business training as a liberal profession. Crown 8vo, cloth, $2.00 net

THE STONE OF DESTINY — Katherine Mackay

This book, by Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, is a story remarkable for its idealistic treatment and originality, in which love and destiny play at cross purposes. 16mo, cloth, $1.25

YARBOROUGH THE PREMIER — A. R. Weekes

A story of English political life that will interest by its power and intimate portrayal of the human side of men high in affairs of State. Yarborough, clever, engaging, ambitious, is a most interesting study. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

IN FAMINE LAND — Rev. J. E. Scott

This book is the work of an American missionary who has lived through India famines in close touch with the people. The numerous illustrations are from photographs which graphically depict the situation in the stricken land. Crown 8vo, $2.50 net

THE STANDARD OF PRONUNCIATION IN ENGLISH — T. R. Lounsbury, LL.D., L.H.D.

An authoritative and instructive book which Professor Lounsbury has not failed to make entertaining with his genial, charming style. His argument is that there never has been and never can be an undisputed standard of pronunciation for our language. Post 8vo, cloth back, gilt top, uncut edges, $1.50 net

BREAKING INTO SOCIETY — George Ade

By the author of "Forty Modern Fables," "The Sultan of Sulu"

A new collection of "fables" by George Ade, in that crisp, inimitable style which has made his former work so popular. The present volume recounts the experiences of various aspirants for social prestige, or in other words—"What Happens to Butters-In." Illustrated. 16mo, $1.00

THE EASTER STORY — Hannah Warner

A charming explanation for grown-ups and children of the meaning of Easter. With decorative borders, printed in two colors, and artistically bound. Square 16mo, 48 pages, 50 cents

SIR MORTIMER — Mary Johnston

By the author of "To Have and To Hold"

A romance of Elizabethan days, of uncommon power and imaginative beauty. The love of the gallant Sir Mortimer for the fair Damaris Sedley, a lady of the court, runs like a poem through a narrative alive with stirring incidents of the days of Sir Walter Raleigh, when all England loved, sang, adventured and fought in the flush of youthful power. With frontispiece reproducing the colors of the original painting and eight other illustrations by F. C. Yohn, printed upon specially made India-tinted paper and mounted like photographs upon blank pages. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

CAPTURED BY THE NAVAJOS — Capt. Charles A. Curtis

A book that will interest boys by its thrilling adventures with Indians, in which the pluck and courage of two sturdy youngsters play a heroic part. Illustrated. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.25 net

EXTRACTS FROM ADAM'S DIARY — Mark Twain

This amusing story purports to be the actual diary written by the first man, Adam, and gives his views of his wife, Eve, and their experiences in Eden. Illustrated by F. Strothmann. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.00

MEMOIRS OF A BABY — Josephine Daskam

The sorry side of life—the tribulations of the little tots have no place in this irresistibly amusing record of the home life of a typical American young couple. All the various incidents of a lively youngster's babyhood here find laughable portrayal. Profusely illustrated with pen and ink drawings by F. Y. Cory. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

HARPER'S SPRING BOOKS

GREATER AMERICA — Archibald R. Colquhoun

By the author of "China in Transformation"

A thorough account of America's territorial expansion—its beginning, growth and progress, and the effect of that expansion on the world at large. Maps and diagrams. 8vo, cloth, $2.50 net

LATER ADVENTURES OF WEE MACGREEGOR — J. J. Bell

No more delightfully humorous studies of childhood have been written than the "Wee Macgreegor" stories. All the characters of the earlier book appear in these later adventures of the little Scotch laddie.

16mo, ornamented cloth, $1 25

RULERS OF KINGS — Gertrude Atherton

By the author of "The Conqueror," "The Aristocrat"

In this volume is pictured the conflict between the two greatest forces in the world—money in America and royalty in Europe. The hero is the son of a colossal millionaire, and illustrates what might be done in the way of power with such vast resources. The heroine is presented as the daughter of a European monarch of this century. While the book is a romance, there are no "Adventures," elopements, rescues, or other stock properties. It is an attempt at an accurate historical novel of the present day—the close conflict of American wealth and brains with royalty—the victory falling to the former by virtue of its own dominance. Post 8vo, ornamented cloth, $1.50

THE INVENTIONS OF THE IDIOT — John Kendrick Bangs

The Idiot is one of Mr. Bangs' most successful and best-known characters. In this book he has all sorts of plans for bettering things generally, which he discusses with the other boarders at Mrs. Smithers-Pedagog's High-Class Home for Single Gentlemen. Among his schemes is one for making things easier for mothers, another for helping beggars to make more money, and other unusual enterprises. 16mo, ornamented cloth, $1.25

THE STEPS OF HONOR — Basil King

By the author of "Let No Man Put Asunder"

Harvard College and staid, quiet Cambridge form the background of this story in which the disclosure of an act of plagiarism, committed by a young college instructor who has written a successful book, leads to the rupture of his love affair and involves other members of the college community. Post 8vo, ornamented cloth, $1.50

BRUVVER JIM'S BABY — Philip Verrill Mighels

An intensely intesesting and uproariously funny story of a tiny mining settlement in the far West, which is shaken to the very roots by the sudden advent of a baby found on the plains. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

GEMS OF THE EAST — A. H. Savage Landor

By the author of "In the Forbidden Land"

The whole story in detail of present conditions in the Philippines. Mr. Landor's journey of several thousand miles through the islands lasted over a year, during which time he took two or three thousand photographs, from which the book is illustrated. 8vo, uncut edges, gilt top, $4.00 net

THE GATES OF CHANCE — Van Tassel Sutphen

By the author of "The Cardinal's Rose"

A connected series of twelve stories full of mystery and remarkable adventure and constant surprises in the development of plot. Illustrated. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

THE LIGHT OF THE STAR — Hamlin Garland

The story of an actress, showing the contrast between the publicity of a theatrical career and the homeliness, simplicity and virtue of her real life. Illustrated. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

THE FALL OF FEUDALISM IN IRELAND — Michael Davitt

An account of the struggle of the Irish people to regain possession of their land confiscated under the Cromwellian settlement, which has virtually continued for 250 years. Crown 8vo, cloth, uncut edges and gilt top, $2.50 net

THE SON OF LIGHTHORSE HARRY — James Barnes

By the author of "For King or Country"

A boy's book of adventure, of which the hero is General Robert E. Lee in his youth. The story follows him from the time of his boyhood through West Point and the Mexican War. Post 8vo, cloth, $1.50

THE GIVERS — Mary E. Wilkins

A collection of stories full of the humor and pathos of New England life, after the manner of the tales in which Miss Wilkins scored her remarkable early successes. Post 8vo, $1.50

SUCCESS AMONG NATIONS — Dr. Emil Reich

A consideration of successful nations of the past, the reasons for their success and an inquiry as to the successful nations of the future. An interesting work treated in a popular manner.

IN SEARCH OF THE UNKNOWN — Robert W. Chambers

A novel of curious adventures in which a professor of natural history in search of unknown things, and his assistant, in love with a real young woman, play an entertaining part. Post 8vo, $1.50

Mrs. Sheldon's Greatest Story

KATHERINE'S SHEAVES

By MRS. GEORGIE SHELDON

(Mrs. George Sheldon Downs)

THE VERY LATEST WORK BY THIS GIFTED AUTHOR

THE fascinating romances coming from the pen of Mrs. George Sheldon Downs have been popular for many years, but this is the first time the brilliant author has given her real name to the public. The character of this book justifies the action. It is a remarkable work—perhaps the most remarkable in fiction.

Judged as a story, pure and simple, "Katherine's Sheaves" is altogether delightful. But it is more than a charming piece of fiction; it is one of the strongest books ever written in praise of Christian Science. Not since the publication of Mrs. Humphry Ward's great purpose-novel, "Robert Elsmere," in 1888, has so powerful a work been presented to the public.

But here Mrs. Downs points to an all sufficient religion as distinguished from the creed suggested in "Robert Elsmere," a creed hardly distinguishable from philosophic skepticism.

Following the career of Katherine Minturn, an ardent young disciple of Mary Baker Eddy, Mrs. Downs builds up her arguments in the most skilful fashion, and a perusal of the book must convince anyone that Christian Science is a great reality.

Apart from the story, which by the way is of unusual interest, one must admire the novel for its philosophy and its wisdom. Mrs. Downs has got to the very heart of things and speaks with the sincerity of one who has tasted at first hand the delights of the religion which she unfolds.

This book will be illustrated, and elegantly bound in cloth, with a handsome cover design.

BARONESS VON HUTTON

Illustrated by C. J. BUDD

ONE DOLLAR

This is by far the strongest story ever written by this well-known author. Its setting, the deck of a storm-tossed Atlantic liner, is admirably suited to the portrayal of the character of its central figure, Araby, a woman such as you have not before met between the covers of a book. Its success is a foregone conclusion.

WINNING HIM BACK

By Anita Vivanti Chartres

Of the many books by this popular writer, none is more worthy of praise than this one. It is an exquisitely conceived comedy, in which the author has achieved that most difficult of literary tasks, a story in which true humor is sustained from the first page to the last, without any interval of dullness.

IN THE BISHOP'S CARRIAGE

Cleverest of all is the mad, glad, bad Nance Olden, the pretty, brave and noble Nance, the heroine! — with all the attraction of a pretty woman and all the resources of an attractive one.

The interest you feel in her is admiration for wit and ingenuity—the Anglo-Saxon sympathy for a good fighter, who wins in the face of cruel circumstance and discouraging odds.

The story is bold in epigram, novel in paradox, quaint in ingenuity. Tangle after tangle is quickly involved and dextrously unwoven.

Jump "in the Bishop's carriage" and you will have the most exciting, merriest, maddest ride of your life.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

☞ The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price. ☜

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc. is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

A new series is introduced with this volume. It is intended to furnish biographical and critical studies of well-known authors of all countries. Distinguished writers, British and American, contribute to it. While much freedom has been allowed the contributors, it will be found that the special aim of supplying full critical and expository estimates has been kept steadily in view. In many cases additions have been made to the store of existing information.

Scribner, Gilbert Hilton. Where did life begin?: a brief inquiry as to the probable place of beginning and the natural courses of migration therefrom of the flora and fauna of the earth: a monograph. New ed. N. Y., Scribner, 1903. c. '83-'03. 13+75 p. por. D. cl., $1 net.

Shackleton, Rob. The great adventurer. N. Y., Doubleday, Page & Co., 1904. [Mr.] c. 6+356 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

The "great adventurer" and his three school friends influenced each other throughout his remarkable business career. He formed a trust of trusts and did business on a vast scale, but was also truly romantic. One of the friends is a clergyman, the other a gentlemanly house robber, the third becomes the husband of the girl the "great adventurer" covets. A story of ambition and love and many surprises.

Stephen, Sir Leslie. The playground of Europe. New ed. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1895, [1904.] 11+339 p. il. D. cl., price reduced to $1.50.

Talbot, Mrs. Edith Armstrong. Samuel Chapman Armstrong: a biographical study.

N. Y., Doubleday, Page & Co., 1904. [Ja.] c. 7+301 p. il. D. cl., $1.50 net.

Samuel Chapman Armstrong, founder of Hampton Institute, and a noted soldier in the Civil War, was born in Maui, Hawaiian Islands, in 1839. Incidents of his life from this date until 1890 are outlined by his daughter, who describes scenes from her father's Hawaiian days and episodes of army life. Mrs. Talbot dwells particularly on his work among the Indians and negroes, and endeavors to picture him surrounded by the many difficulties which confronted him in the beginning of his social experiment.

United States. The federal reporter, v. 125. Permanent ed., Nov., 1903-Jan., 1904. St. Paul, West Pub. Co., 1904. c. 30+1057 p. O. (National reporter system, U. S. ser.) shp., $3.50.

Wells, Carolyn, and Taber, Harry Parsons. The Gordon elopement: the story of a short vacation. N. Y., Doubleday, Page & Co., 1904. [Mr.] c. 6+235 p. D. cl., †$1.25.

The Gordon elopement differed from the usual escapade which figures not only in fiction, but also in real life, in as much as it was suddenly planned by a tired hostess and her husband, who wished to be delivered from their visiting friends. The scene of the elopement is Rumford Falls, Maine. The eloping couple sojourn in a large hotel, which is suggestive of mystery; here they meet the other characters, who add an element of romance to a humorous story in which Aunt Zip and Joseph are the centre of some amusing episodes.

INDEX TO SPRING ANNOUNCEMENTS.

In this department the announcements of books to be published during the Spring season are indexed under author and title, with as much information as publishers were ready to give in advance of publication. Books which appeared before February 1 in our "Weekly Record of New Publications" are not included.

Where binding is not stated the books are generally understood to be in cloth binding; "bds.," particularly in the department of Juvenile fiction, generally means illuminated or fancy board covers.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT

MARCH 19, 1904.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE SPRING OUTLOOK.

LESS and less the Spring Season marks so definite a beginning for publishing activity as it once did—as it did even so short a time as five years ago. The publishing term once designated as the Fall and Holiday Season, while it more definitely marks a beginning than the Spring Season does, now really has become a fall and winter season, lingering until Easter is in sight, and leaving hardly any perceptible break between the holidays and spring. We note this fact approvingly, and trust the example will spread and obliterate all seasons, making the publishing and selling of books practically a "continuous performance." While certain considerations must necessarily be had for the summer and vacation season, there is no more reason why the publishing of solid books should not occur in the "dog days" than reason why the publishing of light literature should cease when nature puts on her winter garments. In a country of such vast extent as ours, with its varying climates all the year around and in all sections, some one is taking a vacation every day while another is hard at study—hence the futility of an arbitrary division of the seasons, and tempering publications to fit the seasons.

Already a number of excellent new books in all departments of literature are in the market, and if our list of spring announcements may be taken as authority a larger number is waiting to be brought out during the next six months. In view of the war in the East a number of publishers have looked over their books that are of enduring value, and have put them into expert hands to be critically revised and brought to date. Everything on Russia, Japan, China, Korea and Siberia, of historical, descriptive and political nature, awaits a new public, and many new books on these lands are promised immediately. Panama, the Philippines and President Roosevelt also have a small literature devoted to their absorbing interests.

Great literary interest attaches to several biographies promised for the spring, notably to "The Autobiography of Herbert Spencer," to two or three studies of Tolstoi and to many new volumes of critical biography of literary men written by the fittest of present authors. Fiction holds its own in numbers and is of a higher average standard than for some seasons. All the questions before the world are mirrored in the novels of authors whose names stand for knowledge of topics and literary skill. Many new publishers are putting their imprint on forthcoming books, especially on works of fiction.

Notwithstanding the unsettled conditions abroad, and the impending presidential campaign at home, advance orders show that neither foreign wars nor domestic politics will interfere as seriously with the book market as they have done on some former occasions. The winter season, though the weather conditions in many parts of the country have been most unfavorable, was most satisfactory, with possible exception in some of the middle Atlantic States. Even during the months of January and February, usually considered slow months, there was considerable activity; in fact, the sale of Valentines, for example, has hardly ever been better than this year. Unless some unforeseen occurrence intervenes the present season promises to be as prosperous as any the booktrade has enjoyed for some years past.

WE are informed that the reference to Mr. William Beverley Harison's affairs, as printed under Business Notes in our issue of March 12, was an error, and we hope, therefore, that no attention will be paid or weight attached to the statement so made.

VELLUCENT BOOK-BINDINGS

SOME years ago a remarkable method of decoration for the binding of books originated in the fertile mind of Mr. Cedric Chivers, of Bath, Eng., which is described below by H. Granville Fell, in The Studio: "Specially selected skins of clear unstretched vellum were the simple and legitimate means employed, and after a number of trials and experiments, the result proved the new method to be wider in scope and more varied in its range of artistic possibilities than any previously attempted.

"Since the art of gilding leather was introduced into Europe from the East, about the year 1470, by the Venetians, nothing new in the external decoration of books has been achieved which gives such endless opportunities for beautiful and permanent decoration as does the transparent vellum, or 'vellucent,' method. Originally, leather-bound books depended for decoration mainly upon the blind impressions the leather received from brass dies or blocks. The introduction of gold was a distinct advance, giving as it did a more brilliant and satisfying result, and this method has remained for the past 400 years the chief means employed in the ornamentation of books. To obtain varied effects in color, dyes, stains, paintings and inlayings have all been used. Painting upon the surface has been generally discarded, owing to its liability to damage by friction. Stains and dyes have proved destructive to the leather, so that inlaying of different colored leathers has become the method most generally employed as a means of obtaining effects in color. This plan of coloring, however, has its very strict and obvious limitations. The impression of engraved tools, either blind or in gold, very closely circumscribes the field of fancy for the art-worker in book-decoration. The 'vellucent' method, on the other hand, allows of the utmost freedom of conception compatible with the tenets of good surface decoration; and, since by reason of its nature, greater liberty of pictorial treatment is legitimized, the field both for design and color becomes almost limitless.

"The permanency, strength, toughness, and durability of vellum as a binding material has for ages past been fully recognized, and the fact that the surface is capable of being cleaned without injury, being impervious to the action of damp, was an important point in Mr. Chivers's deliberations while dealing with the external decoration of books by the particular method he had in view. This method is perfectly simple and logical in its process. The designs were first painted or drawn in colors with as full a palette or as subdued a richness of coloring as the artist chose to employ. Various iridescent materials and precious metals, pared to the thinness of paper or even of leaf gold, according to the fancy of the designer, were often introduced, to enhance the richness of the scheme; mother-o'-pearl, shell, beetles' wings, these and other beautiful materials were utilized in the carrying-out of the designs with the greatest felicity of effect. The transparent vellum was then laid upon the surface of the painting and the two pressed together till they became disseverable. Gold tooling was now superimposed upon the surface of the subcutaneous coloring, often with results surprising in their richness and beauty. Indeed, the vellum itself, though of perfect transparency, has, from its delicate warmth of hue, the quality of rendering luminous and reconciling colors otherwise difficult to combine harmoniously in juxtaposition, its appearance being that of a beautiful enamel-like glaze. The whole field of color, of gold and iridescence, is thus open to the artist who elects to decorate books bound in 'vellucent.'

"It may be claimed that the color effects produced, seeing the nature of the materials employed, exceed in brilliancy and beauty anything in the whole range of artistic expression yet achieved. A book when complete will stand constant use and everyday wear and tear; it has neither excrescences nor protuberances, is absolutely flat, smooth, and pleasant to handle. The design, however beautiful and precious, is permanently secured from dirt and damp in one of the strongest and best materials ever used for the binding of a book. The iridescent and other materials used have been the subject of the most interesting experiments. In spite of the novelty and seeming incongruity of the idea, step by step, each new introduction was carefully thought out, and a trial made of its adaptability under translucent vellum, Mr. Chivers adopting a wise policy of restraint in allowing only those effects entirely satisfactory to the trained eye of the artist to be accepted for use."

Mr. Chivers intends to keep this outlet for artistic ingenuity open solely to original work, thus preserving it from the degradation which it would certainly suffer at the hands of the cheap color-printer, so that each binding issued in this form will possess the additional artistic value of an autograph work of the designer. The Scott-Thaw Company, of New York, have secured a number of these exclusive bindings for their folio reprints of notable books.

TEN ENGLISH BOOKS MOST IN DEMAND DURING FEBRUARY.

OF the new books published in England during the past month the following ten, according to The Book Monthly, have been most in demand:

The Adventures of Elizabeth at Rügen.
My Friend Prospero. (Henry Harland.)
The American Prisoner. (Eden Phillpotts.)
Cardinal's Pawn. (K. L. Montgomery.)
Phœbe in Fetters. (Mrs. B. Reynolds.)
History of Modern England. (Herbert Paul.)
Highway and Byways of Sussex. (E. V. Lucas.)
English Literature and Society in the 18th Century. (Sir Leslie Stephen.)
Korea. (Angus Hamilton.)
Ireland in the New Century. (Sir Horace Plunkett.)

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

THE AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION AMENDS ITS PLAN.

THE AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION held a meeting in the rooms of the Aldine Association on the 11th inst. to consider the amendments to its plan proposed a few weeks ago. Following is the plan as amended to April 1, 1904. The changes will chiefly be found in sections 1, 3, 4, 5, 9 and 10:

I. That the Members of the American Publishers' Association agree that all copyrighted books first issued by them after May 1, 1901, shall be published at net prices which it is recommended shall be reduced from the prices at which similar books have been issued heretofore: Provided however that there shall be exempt from this agreement all school books, books published by subscription and not through the trade, such other books as are not sold through the trade; also at the desire of the individual publisher, any new editions, any work of fiction or any juvenile.

II. It is recommended that the retail price of a net book, marked net, be printed on a paper wrapper covering the book.

III. That the Members of the Association agree that copyrighted books shall be sold by them to those booksellers only who will maintain the retail price of such net copyrighted books for one year and to those booksellers and jobbers only who will sell their copyrighted books except at retail to no one who cuts such net prices.

A dealer or bookseller may be defined as one who makes it a regular part of his business to sell books and carries stock of them for public sale.

It is further agreed by the Members of the Association that they will not themselves offer, nor sell their copyrighted books to any one who offers, protected books in combination with a periodical at less than the trade subscription price of such periodical plus the net or minimum retail price of the book.

IV. That the Members of the Association agree that on all copyrighted works of fiction (not net) published by them after February 1, 1902, and on all juvenile books (not net) published after April 1, 1904; the greatest discount allowed at retail for one year after publication shall be 28 per cent.; and all the rules for the protection of net books shall apply to this extent to the protection of copyrighted fiction and copyrighted juvenile books published on the same basis as fiction.

The conditions governing the sale of fiction are such that the Association does not attempt to fix a uniform price at which works of fiction (not net) shall be sold but only to name a maximum discount which, however, it is hoped will rarely be given.

V. The only exceptions to the foregoing rules shall be in cases of libraries, which may be allowed a discount of not more than 10 per cent on net books and 33 1-3 per cent. on fiction, and juvenile books (not net).

Libraries entitled to these discounts may be defined as those libraries to which access is either free or by annual subscription. Book clubs are not to be entitled to discount on net books, nor to any special discount on fiction or juvenile books.

VI. That the Association suggests a discount on net copyrighted books of twenty-five per cent. to dealers as a general discount, leaving the question of discount however entirely to the individual publisher.

VII. That after the expiration of a year from the publication of any copyrighted book issued under these regulations, dealers shall not be held to the above restrictions and may sell such book at a cut price; but if on learning of such action the publisher shall desire to buy back at purchase price the copies then remaining in the dealers' hands they must be so re-sold to him on demand.

VIII. That when the publisher sells at retail a net book published under the rules it shall be at the retail price, and he shall add the cost of postage or expressage on all books sent out of the city in which the publisher does business.

IX. That for the purpose of carrying out the above plan the directors of the Association be authorized to establish an office and engage a suitable person as manager, and endeavor to secure from all dealers in books assent to the above conditions of sale. Under the direction of the Board, the manager shall investigate all cases of cutting reported and when directed shall send out notices to the Association, jobbers, and the trade, of any persons violating the above provisions, after giving the person accused of such violation an opportunity to explain his action.

X. That it shall be the duty of all Members of the Association to report immediately to the said office all cases of the cutting of prices which may come to their knowledge.

XI. That the Association through its agents and members aid in the formation of booksellers' associations in the important centres and cities in the United States, the object of which associations shall be to assist the Publishers' Association in maintaining prices on net books as aforesaid, and to establish such lawful rules and regulations respecting the conduct of business in their locality as will tend to secure fair, honorable and uniform methods of business in each important centre or section of the country. That the Association pledge itself to support such local association by every means in its power in maintaining such lawful rules and regulations as may in this way be agreed to.

XII. That in making sales and contracts of sales of their books involving future delivery members shall stipulate that such delivery is contingent on the observance by the purchaser of the rules of the Association.

The report that Macy & Co. have obtained a temporary injunction restraining the American Publishers' Association is without foundation. The injunction has been applied for but has not yet been granted.

AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' COPYRIGHT LEAGUE.

THE secretary of the American Publishers' Copyright League desires to state in connection with the account of its work printed in our issue for March 12, that representatives not only of English publishing houses but of all European publishing concerns are eligible for membership. The League already counts among its members representatives of the branch houses of several continental publishing firms, and will be pleased to welcome in its work further continental publishers whose business gives them a direct interest in American copyright conditions.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Booksellers' League, held on the evening of the 16th inst., the following officers were elected: first vice-president, Cass Richardson; second vice-president, Charles A. Burkhardt; treasurer, W. H. Parker; secretary, Francis Gilman; manager of the Employment Bureau, C. E. Bonnell. It was proposed to hold the May dinner of the League in connection with the annual dinner of the American Booksellers' Association on May 18, and a committee was appointed to confer with the Executive Committee of the American Booksellers' Association as to further arrangements. A number of applicants were elected to membership. The first gold League button to be presented hereafter to a member securing five new candidates was awarded to Charles A. Burkhardt for having secured five new members within three weeks. It seems likely that several other members will win buttons before another meeting of the Board.

THE PITTSBURG SALESMEN'S IMPROVEMENT MEETING.

The salesmen's improvement meeting arranged for by the Pittsburg Booksellers' and Stationers' Association was held on the evening of March 14, at the St. Charles Hotel. There were present sixty persons, who enjoyed half an hour before the dinner in renewing old and making new acquaintances. Representatives of the following firms were present: Alexander, Baker & Co., Baker Office Furniture, R. S. Davis & Co., Jos. Horner Book Co., Wm. G. Johnston & Co., E. E. Levi, Myers & Shinkle Co., U. P. Board of Publication, J. R. Weldin & Co., Eichbaum Lith. & Printing Co., German Book & Stationery Co., Stevenson & Foster Co., Wm. E. Stieren Co., Jacob Henrici and A. B. Dick Co., Chicago.

After the cloth was removed Mr. Charles H. Clough, the president of the Pittsburg Booksellers' and Stationers' Association, opened the speaking in a happy preliminary address, which he closed by saying: "There is no calling or profession requiring more tact, talent, ingenuity and insight into human nature than salesmanship, because the conditions constantly change with each customer and the class of goods to be sold, and while we may do our very best, there is always ample opportunity for improvement next time. I believe there is no better way, and certainly no quicker method, of improving ourselves than by such an exchange of experiences as we shall now have."

As only three of the twenty-two papers read reached us as we went to press, we must defer printing these papers until another issue.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Public Opinion, of London, is publishing weekly a series of articles on the great English publishing houses. Articles have thus far appeared on the houses of John Murray, Smith, Elder & Co. and Blackwood & Sons.

Civic Pride is the title of a new little monthly magazine, the first number of which, dated March, has just been published by E. F. Ingraham, 116 Nassau Street, New York. The aim of the magazine is to stimulate and develop higher citizenship.

Professor Frank Moore Colby, who has been for some time past a regular contributor to The Bookman, has joined the editorial staff of that magazine. Professor Colby has been managing editor of the "New International Encyclopædia," which is just being completed. 1904 will be the tenth year of The Bookman, and this accession to the editorial staff and other contemplated changes bid fair to make the year a most interesting one in the history of of the magazine.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

The Grolier Club, New York, will publish next month a "Catalogue of an Exhibition of Original and Early Editions of Italian Books," to which has been added the address delivered by F. Marion Crawford before the club on the opening of the exhibition. The edition will be limited to 306 copies on Van Gelder paper, at $2.50 the copy.

The Office of the Publishers' Weekly will publish this month "The Annual American Catalogue, Cumulated 1900-1903," containing a record, under author, title, subject and series, of the books published in the United States, recorded from January 1, 1900, to December 31, 1903, together with a list of the publishers whose books are recorded, including their latest addresses. The annual volume of the "English Catalogue" for 1903 will also be ready for delivery before the end of the month, as will also be the 1903 volume of the "Annual Literary Index." The latter volume includes references to 138 of the leading American and English periodicals, also an index to essays, book chapters, etc., a list of bibliographic works published in 1903, a necrology and an index to dates of principal events, which practically serves as an index to the files of any newspaper.

The concluding volume of the new (Murray) edition of Byron's works, edited by Ernest Hartley Coleridge and R. E. Prothero, (New York, Charles Scribner's Sons,) contains a "Bibliography of the successive editions and translations of Lord Byron's poetical works," which, notwithstanding the modest disavowal of its compiler, Mr. Coleridge, is a creditable piece of work, and deserves separate publication. As to its completeness, considering the well-deserved reputation Mr. Coleridge enjoys for painstaking and careful work, and the fact that he has had the co-operation of a number of the leading bibliographers not only of Great Britain but also of Germany, Italy, France and other countries, it may be taken for granted that the field has been thoroughly gleaned for the present. Mr. Coleridge in the first instance has given a full and particular account of the collected editions and separate issues of the poems and dramas that were open for his inspection, and, secondly, has extracted from general bibliographies catalogues of public and private libraries and other sources, bibliographical records of editions which he had been unable to examine. As an indication of the far-reaching fame of Byron, Mr. Coleridge points out that of "Manfred" alone he traced a Bohemian translation, two Danish, two Dutch, three French, nine German, three Hungarian, three Italian, two Polish, one Romaic, one Roumanian, four Russian, and three Spanish translations, and takes it for granted that there are others that escaped his attention. Of "Don Juan" seventy-two translations are recorded. The bibliography covers 260 twelvemo pages and is arranged under the following heads: Collected editions and translations of collected editions; selections and translations of selections; miscellaneous poems; collections of dramas and translations of collections of dramas; poems, dramas and collections of poems, translations of separate poems, notes, appendix, contents of bibliographies and summary of bibliographies.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ARCADIA, FLA.—F. Horton has opened a book and stationery store here.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—The Otto Ulbrich Company has been incorporated to deal in books, stationery, etc., with a capital of $50,000. The directors are Margaret Ulbrich, Edward Denny and C. G. Graner, all of this city.

CHICAGO, ILL.—It is expected that the proceeds of the sale of the stock and plant of Sims, Wilson & Sims Co. will net about $25,000, after deducting the expense of advertising, auctioneer's fees, etc. The firm has thus far failed to file a schedule, and it is therefore uncertain when a meeting of the creditors can be called.

CLEVELAND, O.—The Babbitt & Crummel Company, incorporated for $25,000, by W. J. Morgan, president, H. F. Babbitt, secretary, and E. F. Crummel, treasurer, have taken over the entire business heretofore conducted by Gepfert & Crummel, and before that by The Helman-Taylor Company, and will continue at 168-170 Euclid Avenue.

CLEVELAND, O.—J. F. Gepfert has severed his connection with Gepfert & Crummel, and will now devote his entire time to his store, 138 Superior Street.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—After occupying their present store at 437 East Water Street for a period of twenty-one years, the C. N. Caspar Company is obliged to vacate the store on May 1. The present building is to be torn down and a new structure erected. They have been fortunate enough to succeed in obtaining a convenient and commodious new store to house the Book Emporium in the building at No. 431 East Water Street, (Brodhead Block,) opposite the Kirby House, only three doors south of Mason Street, their present location.

NEW YORK CITY.—We are informed that the statement in reference to the business affairs of William Beverley Harison, as printed under this heading in our issue for March 12, was an error, and we hope, therefore, that no attention will be paid or weight attached to the statement so made.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—D. Schiller, dealer in new and second-hand books, 227 Penn Avenue, has bought the stock, etc., of the late James O'Neill.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Swayze, Bailey & Co., on the 10th inst., purchased the book and stationery business of the late John C. Parker, at 617 Seventeenth Street, N. W. The firm is sole agent for Chicago Perfect Loose Sheet Systems and other stationery novelties.

YOAKUM, TEX.—J. P. Woolsey has become owner of a half interest of J. W. Cook's bookstore.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE OUTLOOK COMPANY, New York, has just ready in a handsome volume Jacob A. Riis's biography of the President, entitled "Theodore Roosevelt the Citizen." The volume contains a number of portraits and illustrations.

A. C. MCCLURG & CO. will issue shortly a reprint of Patrick Gass's journal of the Lewis and Clark expedition. The work will be in one volume, uniform with their library edition of Lewis and Clark, and will be edited by Dr. James K. Hosmer.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have in press a volume of "Norwegian Rambles," by "One of the Ramblers," who tells of rambles through portions of Norway generally unknown by the American traveller. Its purpose is to give to the traveller as well as the stay-at-home a suggestion of the attractions of this picturesque land.

D. C. HEATH & CO. will publish this spring "The Frozen North," an account of the numerous voyages of exploration in the Arctic regions that were made during the nineteenth century, prepared by Miss Edith Horton. The book will serve a purpose as an aid in the study of geography and as a supplementary reader.

THE RUTLEDGE BOOK FIRM, Rutledge, Mo., has published a book entitled "Buried Alive," in which is described the eighteen years' experience of "Fire Bug" Johnson in the Missouri Penitentiary. To Johnson's account is added a history of the prison, methods of punishment, escapes of convicts, etc., by C. E. Hoffman, former guard at the prison.

BRENTANO'S have just ready a book of interest to automobilists. It is "An Automobile Record," a book of pocketable size, with printed headings, in which may be entered the different runs made, their length, rate of speed, condition of roads, names of the party, and other items of interest. It is intended to be very comprehensive and a valuable reference work.

THE PENNSYLVANIA SOCIETY, New York, in its year book for 1904, will include a Pennsylvania "Primer" by Barr Ferree, prepared to present, in the most concise form possible, the essential facts of Pennsylvania history, including information on many points not to be found in other works. It will contain facsimiles, autographs, reproductions of maps and other material.

McClure, Phillips & Co. will publish on the 29th inst. a new book by Gelett Burgess and Will Irwin, entitled "The Picaroons," a series of tales of original adventures told by a group of waifs and outcasts of all professions gathered in a San Francisco coffee house; also, "Daughters of Desperation," by Hildegard Brooks, author of "The Master of Caxton," a satirical skit on anarchism.

Howard Wilford Bell is issuing as Nos. 3 and 5 of his Unit Library Poe's "Tales of Mystery," in twenty-one units, and George William Curtis's "Prue and I," in eight units. Mr. Bell also has imported 100 copies on English hand-made paper of Miss Agnes Tobin's rendering of "Love's Crucifix," nine sonnets, and a canzone by Petrarch to Laura. The book contains a preface by Alice Meynell and illustrations by Graham Robertson.

Harper & Brothers will publish this spring Gertrude Atherton's new novel, "Rulers of Kings." The book, it is said, promises to produce rather sensational effects among certain high circles of European nobility and American people of wealth. Mrs. Atherton has been in Vienna and other foreign cities gathering material at first hand. The influence of the real Rudolf, the ill-fated crown prince of Austria, whose career the author has studied at first hand, is woven into the story.

Herbert B. Turner & Co., Boston, will publish at once a new novel by J. Wesley Johnston, entitled "The Mystery of Miriam," which deals with the lives of financial magnates of the present day, the scenes being laid in America and Europe. They will publish April 1 "Nami-Ko," a realistic novel, dealing with the singular marriage and divorce customs of Japan, by Kenjiro Tokutomi, translated into English, with a special preface by the author. The work in the original reached a sale of nearly 100,000 in three years.

"Serious consequences," says the London Literary World, "have sometimes followed the portraiture of living characters in works of fiction. Henry Harland, however, is not likely to have any apprehensions concerning his characterization of the charming heroine in 'My Friend Prospero;' for what lady would not be flattered by such a portrait? The Austrian princess is said to be a recognizable likeness of Princess Christine of Lahn and Dyck, who lives at Schloss Wischenau, in Moravia, and is a friend of Mr. Harland's."

The Fleming H. Revell Company have just issued a second edition of "The Evolution of the Japanese," by Sidney L. Gulick. It is highly significant that the Japanese reviewers agree with one voice that here is a man that knows the Japanese people as they are. They have in preparation a new Beecher book. It is a collection of the great preacher's illustrations, and is being edited from his published works and much other unpublished material. There will be an introduction by Newell D. Hillis, the present incumbent of the Plymouth Church pulpit.

Dodd, Mead & Company are about to publish "Specimens of Middle Scots," by G. Gregory Smith, of Balliol College, Oxford, who in this volume offers a general introduction to the study of the literary language of Scotland during its period of greatest renown. Much new material and criticism is presented in the elaborate introduction and notes. Not the least important section of the former is the discussion of the traditional view of the influence of French on the language. A long-desired bibliographical account of the early manuscript collections is also added.

At the annual meeting of the French booksellers' association, (Cercle de la librairie,) held February 26, it was announced that the book exhibit to be made by the French booktrade at the St. Louis Exposition this year will be under the direction of Émile Terquem, to whose ability and enterprise was due the gratifying success of the French book exhibits at the world's fairs in Philadelphia and Chicago, and those of the American booktrade, held at the world's fairs in Paris in 1878, 1889, and in 1900. We assure Mr. Terquem, on behalf of the American booktrade, a hearty welcome.

John Lane will publish on the 22d inst. the first novel of Gilbert K. Chesterton, concerning which there has been much curiosity. Its title, "The Napoleon of Notting Hill," was announced some time ago. Notting Hill is a London neighborhood, lying west of Bayswater and north of Kensington. It is a London habit to poke fun at Notting Hill. "Mr. Chesterton," according to the London correspondent of the New York Times, "will transport his reader 100 years into the future and enable him to see curious things in London. It is gravely asserted that the principal character is so drawn that there is no difficulty in discovering that it is based on the personality of Max Beerbohm, the humorist and critic. But people are asking what on earth Max could be doing in Notting Hill. He never visits further west than Lancaster Gate."

Funk & Wagnalls Company have just ready two additions to their Hour-Glass Series of dainty booklets. The first is "Parsifal," an intimate and appreciative description and consideration of Wagner's great opera, by H. R. Haweis, the musical critic. It is illustrated with a portrait of the composer and with scenes from the opera. The second book is "The Trouble Woman," by Clara Morris, a story which, when published in a popular magazine, elicited from readers who had been comforted by it so many requests for its publication in a handier and more permanent form that the author consented, and chose the Hour-Glass Series as the medium of its reappearance. The little story, which is drawn from Miss Morris's own experience, is an "o'er tragic" tale, yet it carries the most cheering of messages.

Henry Holt & Co. will publish at once the first volume of the long-announced "Geology," by Professors Chamberlain and Salisbury, of the University of Chicago. This book presents a view of the origin of the earth and its present condition, which, it is thought, may lead to serious modifications in the nebular hypothesis. It presents the leading facts of geology in such a way that the general principles of the science and the main course of geologic history may be clearly understood by the intelligent reader who has had little previous training in the subject. The first volume treats of geologic processes and their results; the second volume, which is nearly ready, will deal with geologic history. They have also nearly ready "Port Argent," by Arthur Colton, author of "Tioba," etc., a story of business, politics, religion and love in an Ohio city about 1890.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish next week Archibald R. Colquhoun's book on "The Mastery of the Pacific;" "Lord Acton's Letters to Mary Gladstone," (now Mrs. Drew,) which throw suggestive sidelights on the political and social world of Great Britain during many years when Gladstone was a power in English politics; "The Philosophy of Education," by Professor Herman Harrell Horne, of Dartmouth, who discusses the subject with reference to its meaning in the origin and nature of man in distinction from its history, science and art. They will bring out next month a work entitled "Japan, an interpretation," by Lafcadio Hearn, who, in spite of recent reports, has not disappeared at all.

R. H. HINKLEY COMPANY announce the immediate publication of an edition of the Bible, in fourteen handsome volumes, containing both Testaments and the Apocrypha. The novel points claimed for this edition are (1) that the Bible is reprinted as a piece of literature; (2) the text is brought more clearly before the reader by rational paragraphing; (3) the arbitrary numbering of verses has been abandoned; (4) while the beginning of each chapter is indicated typographically, no actual break is made in the narrative because of a chapter division; (5) those portions which are considered poetry, like the Psalms, etc., are printed as poetry, the prose as prose; (6) interpolated words are no longer printed in italic type, but are given in the same type as the rest of the text. This arrangement, it is thought, will make the reading of the text less a task than the conventional arrangement. The work is being printed by D. B. Updike at the Merrymount Press.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. will publish the first two of their ten spring novels to-day, namely, "The Viking's Skull," a romance by John R. Carling, author of "The Shadow of the Czar," and "The Rainbow Chasers," a story of the plains by John H. Whitson, author of "Barbara, a Woman of the West." A second edition of both books has already been printed. They will publish shortly a "Treatise on Special Subjects of the Law of Real Property," by Professor Alfred G. Reeves, of the New York Law School, which, while not a treatise on the entire law of real property, presents a complete outline of the general subject, with a thorough discussion and statement of the law on some of its most important as well as most intricate subdivisions. They will publish next month a new treatise on "American Railroad Law," including street railroads, by Judge Simeon B. Baldwin, of the Connecticut Supreme Court; also, the third volume of Gould and Tucker's "Notes on the Revised Statutes and the Subsequent Legislation of Congress," covering the period from 1897 to the month of February, 1904.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just published new volumes in both the Caxton Series and the Mermaid Series. In the former they issue Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter," "The House of Seven Gables" and "The Blithedale Romance," in one volume, and William Godwin's "Adventures of Caleb Williams." In the Mermaid Series appear two new publications, each of two volumes, one, of the best plays of Dryden, and the other of the best plays of Thomas Middleton. The Dryden is edited by Professor Saintsbury and the Middleton by Mr. Swinburne. They will publish on the 25th inst. "Narratives of the Beginnings of Hebrew History, from the Creation to the Establishment of the Hebrew Kingdom," by Professor Charles Foster Kent, of Yale University. The book will form the first volume of the Students' Old Testament Series, which aims to present to readers the Old Testament and the apocryphal literature from the point of view of modern research. The forthcoming volume, however, is complete in itself. It is a translation and classification of the early narratives in the first eight books of the Bible. Short introductions and footnotes give the results of modern research.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY publish this week "Heart of Lynn," the first long novel by Mary Stewart Cutting, author of "Little Stories of Married Life," who relates the fortunes, temptations and ambitions of a household of young people who have their way to make. The story is illustrated with five drawings by Helen Stowe. They have also just ready "Two Cadets of Gascony," by Burton E. Stevenson, author of the Holladay Case," etc., publication of which was delayed owing to the advance demand requiring the printing of two editions; "Teutonic Legends," by Professor W. C. Sawyer, with an introduction by Professor Schultze, of Dresden. an illustrated account of the Wagnerian music dramas in simple language; also, "Forward," a record of her ten-years' journey, by Miss Lina Boegli, a young Swiss woman widely known for her educational work and for the exploits of her phenomenal journey. "The Issue," George Morgan's long-expected novel, will be ready immediately. The advance demand for this story necessitated a second large printing ten days previous to publication, and the publishers are now ready to fill all orders promptly. "The Issue," as already noted, is a love story of the days of Clay, Calhoun, Webster and Lincoln, and has a frontispiece and five drawings by George A. Williams, reproduced upon tint.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

NEW FICTION OF AMERICAN LIFE

OHIO

Port Argent

By ARTHUR COLTON, author of "Tioba," etc. With frontispiece..... $1.50

This is probably the author's best work so far, though such authorities as the Critic, the Lamp and the Bookman praise his "Tioba" heartily. Port Argent is the story of a few weeks, about 1890, in a city of the Middle West, "a time and place of many experiments and many an undenominated thing."

FROM COVER OF
ALADDIN & CO.

IOWA

Aladdin & Co.

A Romance of Yankee Magic. By HERBERT QUICK, author of "The Wonderland of America."..... $1.50

The Romance of a boom town in the new West. A promoter and his boyhood friend light heartedly undertake the enterprise, likening themselves to pirates capturing golden argosies. When danger comes they quit themselves like men, and risk life itself in their effort to save their investors.

NEBRASKA

Uncle Mac's Nebrasky

By WILLIAM R. LIGHTON, author of "The Ultimate Moment." With frontispiece. $1.25

Uncle Mac is a genuine Westerner. His yarns are characterized by a shrewd humor, and enlivened by brisk frontier episodes.

NOVA SCOTIA

The Micmac

By S. CARLETON. With three decorations, $1.25

A striking tale full of the spirit of the "great out doors." The "humans," interresting as they are, are dominated by the great Nova Scotian swamp.

OTHER NEW FICTION BY AMERICANS

The Transgression of Andrew Vane

By GUY WETMORE CARRYL, author of "Zut and Other Parisians"..... $1.50

A very striking story of certain members of the American colony in Paris. When occasion demands a spade is called a spade.

In the Dwellings of the Wilderness

By BRYSON TAYLOR. With decorations in color..... $1.25

The weird adventures of three American engineers in an Egyptian desert, who enter a buried tomb after disregarding the warnings on the inner and outer portals. The strange events that follow are told impressively and plausibly.

A Night With Alessandro

An episode in Florence under the last of the Medici. By TREADWELL CLEVELAND, Jr. With three views in color by ELIOT KEEN..... $1.25

A gallant Frenchman, his resourceful servant and a certain lady pass a very exciting night among some of the most picturesque figures in history.

JOHN A. ANDREW

By HENRY G. PEARSON.

The complete authoritative life of the famous war governor of Massachusetts is here presented. Mr. Pearson has had free access to all public and private records and letters. Two volumes, with photogravure portraits. $5.00 net. Postage extra.

WILLIAM H. PRESCOTT

By ROLLO OGDEN.

Mr. Ogden has combined in this volume in the "American Men of Letters Series" a most valuable critical study of Prescott's work, with a sympathetic portrayal of a charming personality. $1.10 net. Postage, 10 cents.

FRANCIS PARKMAN

By HENRY D. SEDGWICK.

This volume in the "American Men of Letters Series" is largely made up of autobiographic materials. It portrays with true literary art the most heroic career in the annals of American letters. $1.10 net. Postage, 10 cents.

Volume I. NAPOLEON Volume II.

By COLONEL THEODORE A. DODGE.

These volumes are a part of Colonel Dodge's "History of the Art of War." The political history of the era is dwelt on only so far as is essential to elucidate the military situation. There will be two more volumes on Napoleon. Each volume, illustrated, $4.00 net. Postage extra.

POETRY

THE FIRE-BRINGER

By WILLIAM VAUGHN MOODY.

In this bold dramatic poem Mr. Moody tells the story of Prometheus, giving the great theme a fresh interpretation. $1.10 net. Postage extra.

ENGLISH AND SCOTTISH BALLADS

Edited by GEORGE L. KITTREDGE and HELEN CHILD SARGENT.

Cambridge Edition. With Introduction, Notes, Index, etc., and based on Professor Child's English and Scottish Popular Ballads in five volumes.

ESSAYS FOR THE DAY

By THEODORE T. MUNGER.

Stimulating essays on religious and literary questions of the day. A paper of much significance is that on "The Church: Some Immediate Questions."

A GUIDE TO THE BIRDS

By RALPH HOFMANN.

A complete guide to the identification of birds in the field, of New England and Eastern New York, treating about 250 land and water species. Illustrated by Fuertes and others. $1.50 net. Postage extra.

THE NEIGHBOR

By NATHANIEL S. SHALER.

A scientific study of human relations with especial reference to race prejudices, such as arise in the contact of the Jews and Negroes, with the Aryan peoples. $1.40 net. Postage extra.

WITH THE BIRDS IN MAINE

By OLIVE THORNE MILLER.

"In her new volume Mrs. Miller addresses readers of all ages. Her sketches are delightful reading and will tend to open the eyes and ears of those who go into the country in the summer." —Cleveland Plain Dealer. 16mo, $1.10 net. Postage, 10 cents.

Houghton, Mifflin & Company's SPRING FICTION

THE HORSE-LEECH'S DAUGHTERS

By MARGARET DOYLE JACKSON.

An unusual society novel told with a skill that leaves in the mind a vivid picture of the main characters, three well-to-do New York women and two men. The action is brilliant, buoyant and intense. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

A MUSICAL ROMANCE.

VIOLETT

By BARONESS VON HUTTEN.

"Exquisite in conception, dainty in execution and heartstirring in its effect. 'Violett' exhales artistic atmosphere from cover to cover."—Boston Herald. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

THE STORY OF A DOCTOR.

HENDERSON

By ROSE E. YOUNG.

"Here is a series of the most graphic pictures—realism mingled with beautiful ideals; promises of a goal to be arrived at."—St. Louis Globe Democrat. 12mo, $1.25.

A TEXAS MATCHMAKER

By ANDY ADAMS.

The author of "The Log of a Cowboy" tells of ranch life in Texas with much vigor and incident, relating the regular duties and many amusements of the cattlemen. It is a further interpretation of life characteristically American. Crown 8vo, $1.50. Illustrated by E. Boyd Smith.

(To be published in May.)

HIGH NOON

By ALICE BROWN.

Twelve entertaining stories in Miss Brown's characteristic and brilliant style. Humor, pathos, revenge are handled with a skillful touch beguiling the reader from page to page until the end is reached. 12mo, $1.50.

FRONTIERSMEN

By CHARLES EGBERT CRADDOCK.

Stories of early pioneer days among the Tennessee mountains, dealing with the primitive life of a century and a half ago, the sudden attacks of the Indians and the many local feuds. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

A COUNTRY INTERLUDE

By HILDEGARDE HAWTHORNE.

"It is a sweet and sunny story, gracefully told, with sentiment pure and true, and glints of relieving humor—a book with which to pass an hour of restful recreation."—New York Times. 12mo, $1.25.

KWAIDAN

By LAFCADIO HEARN.

These marvelous Japanese tales of ghosts, goblins, fairies and sprites possess in an unequaled measure the dreaminess, charm and credulity of the Orient.

Illustrated. 12mo, $1.50.

REBECCA

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN.

"'Rebecca' is a delightful book in every sense. Strong and true, never morbid, it abounds in genuine pathos and human feeling."—MARY MAPES DODGE. 12mo, $1.25.

(Published October, 1903.)

JOAN OF THE ALLEY

By FREDERICK O. BARTLETT.

"It is delightful entertainment. Mr. Bartlett has all the machinery of the realistic novel unmistakably at his command. His literary style is graphic, vivid and absolutely free from affectation."—Philadelphia Record. Illustrated. 12mo, $1.50.

Straight Talk About Advance Sales

of Books we Publish March 22d

He that Eateth Bread with Me

By H. A. Mitchell Keays

A NOVEL OF DIVORCE

FIRST LARGE EDITION SOLD OUT (MARCH 17TH)
SECOND NOW IN PRESS

We are sorry that we have to cut down several large orders just received; we are afraid we can't get enough copies to go around before the 22d. We ought to have printed a larger first edition, for we told everybody that this was a great, intense human romance, bound to sell itself. But we didn't expect to be believed so promptly concerning a book by a new writer.

The Admirable Tinker

By Edgar Jepson

THE ARTFUL ACHIEVEMENTS OF AN UP-TO-DATE BOY

FIRST LARGE EDITION NEARLY GONE
SECOND NOW IN PRESS

Another book that surprised us agreeably. We have figured that the first printing will last not more than two days after publication, and we do not want to get caught as we were with "Bread."

By the Fireside

By Charles Wagner

AUTHOR OF "THE SIMPLE LIFE" AND "THE BETTER WAY"

A BOOK ABOUT FAMILY LIFE

BETTER ADVANCE SALES THAN ANY OF OUR MARCH 22D BOOKS

This book is another "Simple Life." In its plea for the preservation of the home and family ties, it has the same direct, straightforward appeal. "The Better Way" lacked this popular form, and it has not had the sensational success which is history for "The Simple Life" and our prophecy for "By the Fireside."

P. S.—Our first edition of "By the Fireside" is larger than the whole sales of many a "popular" novel.

By Charles Wagner

Author of "The Simple Life" and "The Better Way"

BY THE FIRESIDE

For this companion volume we predict the success of "The Simple Life," which has sold better than many a "popular" novel, although it is a book of counsel rather than entertainment.

By Stewart Edward White

Author of "The Blazed Trail," "The Westerners," "Conjuror's House," etc.

THE SILENT PLACES

The author of "The Blazed Trail" (now in its sixteenth edition) has given in this last book a strenuous detective story, laid in his chosen field of the North Woods. The dramatic power of the book alone would make it famous. In addition, it has the fascination of the great, white, quiet forests—The Silent Places.

HE THAT EATETH BREAD WITH ME

A Great Novel of the Divorce Problem

What a divorce may mean to an injured wife—what it may mean to a man who discovers he has made a mistake—what it may mean to an innocent child in the shadow of disgrace—all these are elements of this book, the work of a new writer, which shows mastery and restraint, though dealing with intense emotions.

Ready Late in March. $1.50

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & COMPANY

By Joel Chandler Harris

Author of "Uncle Remus," "Gabriel Tolliver," etc.

A LITTLE UNION SCOUT

The kindly and delightful author of "Uncle Remus" has written here a charming Civil War story of Tennessee. The Little Union Scout is a girl who acts as a Northern spy, sometimes as a girl and sometimes as a man. There is a striking character in Forrest, the bluff and kindly old Confederate cavalry leader.

By Marmaduke Pickthall

SAÏD, THE FISHERMAN

A story as full of Oriental romance, mystery and adventure as any Arabian Night's tale. No English writer has ever understood the Oriental mind as well as Mr. Pickthall.

"Easily the most notable 'first novel' of the last year."—N. Y. Telegram.

"Parts of it might have been written by the authors of 'The Arabian Nights' if they were living to-day."—N. Y. Globe.

IMPORTANT BOOK ON THE FAR EAST

Timely! Popular! Authoritative!

JAPAN: The Place and the People

By G. WALDO BROWNE, author of "The Far East," "The Paradise of the Pacific," etc., with an important introduction by Hon. KOGORO TAKAHIRA, Japanese Minister to the United States.

This work comprises a picturesque and historical description of the brilliant Oriental land which is now in the focus of the world's interest, and seems destined to emerge from the present unhappy struggle as the greatest military and naval power in the Far East. It contains a complete account of the Japanese people, their traditions and civilization, from the prehistoric origin of the race down to the present time, together with a fascinating description, written in a fluent, readable style, of the topography and scenery of Japan and the strange customs of its inhabitants. The author gives us alluring glimpses of life in both country and city, and has the faculty of transferring to his pages the elements of color and poetry so indispensable to the work of any historian who attempts to write of this most imaginative of races and most dreamy of lands—the country of chrysanthemums, cherry-trees, shrines, gardens, and Geisha girls. As a well-proportioned account of the mighty Oriental power, toward which all eyes are now directed, "Japan: The Place and the People" takes high rank among recent publications. The volume contains about 450 pages of text, and includes 16 exquisite color-plates, more than 50 beautiful full-page half-tone illustrations from new photographs, and 260 text cuts. One volume, cloth extra, large 8vo. $2.50 net. Postage extra.

A Work of Immediate Value and Interest

NEW EDITION OF RAMBAUD'S RUSSIA.

The history of Russia from the earliest times to the present, by Alfred Nicolas Rambaud, translated by L. B. Lang, edited and enlarged by Nathan Haskell Dole. The standard history of Russia by the celebrated French historian, whose residence in the Russian Empire gave him unusual opportunity for writing a trustworthy history. The work includes a history of the Turco-Russian war of 1877-1878 from the best authorities, by the editor. Handsomely printed from clear bold type on laid paper, and illustrated with three fine steel engraved portraits. Three volumes, small 8vo, cloth, gilt tops, uncut, $6.00.

GENERAL LITERATURE

LIFE OF SHAKESPEARE

By WILLIAM J. ROLFE, Litt.D.

THE publication of this work is a literary event of first importance. It is the latest and most complete biography of Shakespeare, written by one of the most famous living authorities on the subject. Within the 550 pages of text, Dr. Rolfe has condensed all the known facts, as well as reasonable conjectures, respecting the life of Shakespeare; also, adequate and brilliant criticisms of the plays, sonnets and other writings, and all available data which are reliable regarding portraits, editions, and aids to the study of the poet's works. There are several full-page illustrations, comprising etchings from portraits and rare paintings, and the book has an exhaustive index. One volume, cloth, octavo, illustrated, $3.00.

A GLOSSARY OF SHAKESPEARE'S COMPLETE WORKS

By ALEXANDER DYCE.

THE glossary to the works of Shakespeare by ALEXANDER DYCE (1798-1869), the noted English clergyman and Shakespearian critic, is everywhere recognized as a standard work of reference, but it has not been readily accessible to the book buyer of small means. The present one-volume edition contains all of Dyce's invaluable illustrative quotations from Shakespeare, with the addition of several new features. In place of Dyce's references, which are only to volume and page of his own edition, there have been substituted references to the particular play, with act, scene and line, or the particular poem, with title and line, in the text of the Cambridge edition. The information, also, contained in the notes appended to Dyce's edition of Shakespeare's plays, to which the student is frequently sent, has been transferred to the glossary itself, thus making it complete. Several full-page portraits add to the general interest of the work. One volume, cloth, octavo, $3.00.

TWO SUCCESSFUL BOOKS

New Edition of

THREE HUNDRED THINGS A BRIGHT GIRL CAN DO

By LILLA ELIZABETH KELLEY. This successful holiday book of last season, it is hardly necessary to remind the trade, is a complete treasury of practical suggestions on sports, handiwork, amusements, and all sorts of useful occupations for girls and women. It is fully indexed, has 630 pages and 700 illustrations. The New York Times pronounced it "At once interesting and valuable," and the New York American called it "The most important book for women which has been issued this season." Cloth, 12mo, handsome cover design, $1.20 net.

New Edition of

A HERMIT'S WILD FRIENDS

By MASON A. WALTON. A volume of animal and wood-craft lore, by the well-known hermit of Bond's Hill, Gloucester, Mass., which gives a graphic description of nearly twenty years of solitary life in the woods. It has more than fifty illustrations from photographs and from original drawings by Louis Agassiz Fuertes and other eminent artists. "A treasure among the best books relating to the great out-of-doors. Not a page in it but reads like a romance."—Boston Transcript. "Among recent books relating to wild life out-of-doors, this easily ranks first."—Journal of Pedagogy. Cloth, large 12mo, $1.50 net.

MORE ENTERTAINING THAN A NOVEL!

AROUND the WORLD WITH A KING

By WILLIAM N. ARMSTRONG.

"KALAKAUA I, King of the Hawaiian Islands, said to me early one morning in January, 1881, while we sat under the cocoanut palms:

'Now that my troubles are over, I mean to take a trip around the world, and you must go with me.' * * *

I took this remark as an idle fancy, but as we rode into the city I said:

'If your Majesty makes a tour of the world, you will be the first sovereign of the earth who has ever traveled around it, and your subjects should erect a high monument of lava stones on the crown of Punch Bowl with this inscription:

'TO THE FIRST SOVEREIGN WHO PUT A GIRDLE AROUND THE EARTH. A. D., 1881.'"

As the King proposed to travel incognito, his party consisted only of himself, Colonel C. H. Judd, his Chamberlain, and the writer of these memoirs, his Minister of State. These three had been schoolmates together and had rubbed one another's noses in the dirt thirty years before. The only attendant was the King's valet who, it was afterwards learned, was a German baron.

The kingdom they represented was a tiny one, but they were entitled to royal ceremonies according to the usages of nations, and they received them everywhere they went:—JAPAN, CHINA, SIAM, INDIA, EGYPT, ITALY, ENGLAND, BELGIUM, GERMANY, FRANCE, SPAIN, PORTUGAL and the UNITED STATES.

The book gives intimate glimpses of the world's chief personages, from Queen Victoria to the Emperor of Japan, with interesting and amusing accounts of Kalakaua's experiences.

The publication of these memoirs has been delayed for some years and until after the King's death, in order to permit a freedom of narration, an adherence to truth, and "the painting of a portrait with the wrinkles."

WITH INTERESTING HALFTONE PORTRAITS OF MOST OF THE PERSONAGES MET, SHOWING THEM AS THEY APPEARED IN 1881.

12mo, Cloth, $1.60 net.

An Important Translation

FROM THE JAPANESE

To be Published April 2nd

NAMI-KO

A REALISTIC NOVEL

WITH SPECIAL PREFACE BY THE AUTHOR

KENJIRO TOKUTOMI

330 pp., 12mo, bound in cloth, $1.50

NAMI-KO, the first novel to be translated from modern Japanese literature, deserves this distinction from the fact that no other book has ever attained such instantaneous popularity. First published in 1900, in three years it reached a sale of nearly 100,000 copies, something unprecedented in the history of Japanese book-selling. It appealed especially to the Japanese mind because it accurately set forth in the guise of fiction their rapidly changing moral, religious and social opinions.

THE PLOT

THE story of Nami-Ko deals with the singular marriage and divorce customs of Japan. According to the Confucian system of ethics, a mother may divorce her son's wife without his knowledge or consent, and it is this rule which the author has used as the basis of his plot. The story is pathetic, dramatic and descriptive, the characters of the hero and the heroine affording excellent opportunity for scenes of exceptional power. In contrast with its seriousness, it contains no little humor, and will attract especial attention by its faithful reproduction of the curious Japanese ways of life. The hero being a naval officer, there is a patriotic atmosphere about the story which will be found very effective at the present moment of the great struggle between Japan and Russia. There is a vivid description of the battle between the Japanese and Chinese fleets off the Yalu and another of Port Arthur during the Japanese occupation.

KIN O' KTAADN

Verse Stories of the Plain Folk who are Keeping Bright the Old Home Fires up in Maine

12mo, cloth decorative, with frontispiece portrait, and with six illustrative decorations by Amy Rand. Net, $1.00; by post, $1.10

Although called "Verse Stories" Mr. Day's new volume is not merely a book of poetry. The half hundred new poems, grouped in appropriate sections, are woven together into a consistent and harmonious unity by a thread of prose comment and chat, thus giving such a picture of the lights and shadows of homely Yankee life as has never before been printed. The poetry includes all of Mr. Day's best recent work, and the prose possesses a charm not inferior to that of the verse. The book is in reality what the New York Sun called Mr. Day's first book "Maine in the Phonograph," and it shows evidence of marked growth in the power of its author which places him high up among the best writers of New England.

Under the Vierkleur

A Romance of a Lost Cause

By BEN J. VILJOEN, Late Assistant Commandant General of the Army of the Transvaal.

12mo, cloth decorative, $1.50.

A splendid novel of life and stirring adventure in South Africa during the late war. Written by one of the most brilliant generals of the Boer army, it seems almost autobiographic in the vividness of its incidents, and it is withal so temperate in its tone and so manifestly free from prejudice as to be convincing of its essential truth as a picture of real life under the Four-colored Flag of the Transvaal.

Territorial Acquisitions of the United States

By EDWARD BICKNELL

The continued call for this most compact and authoritative little book justifies the issue of a third edition, carefully revised and brought down to 1904 by the addition of new chapters on the Philippines, Samoa, and the Panama cession.

16mo, cloth. Net, 50c.; by post, 55c.

The Lover's Rubaiyat

"A book for sweethearts and unforgetting folk who would gather joy's windstrown petals to fashion again the rose."

Edited by JESSIE B. RITTENHOUSE.

An entirely novel setting of certain of the lesser known quatrains of Omar in the form of a splendid Persian love poem, having all the coherence and the atmosphere of the work of a single translator, although in reality it is the blended work of ten different hands.

16mo, beautifully printed in two colors, with decorations and ornamental cover. Net, 75c.; by post, 80c.

OXFORD BIBLE

BREVIER TYPE. LARGE, BLACK FACED

TEXT, REFERENCE, AND CONCORDANCE EDITIONS

An Astonishing Feat

Large, clear type in a handy size. Beautifully printed on the famous OXFORD INDIA PAPER

"The New Bible just published by the Oxford Press is without doubt the finest product of the kind ever given to the public. For many years there has been a demand for a Bible of small compass, and of large and readable type. The attempt to get the book into a small compass has invariably resulted in the use of a type that has done damage to the eyesight. But now we have a book of compass and type that must suit the most exacting."—The Christian Advocate, Feb. 11, 1904.

NEW EDITION OF THE

ALTAR SERVICE

Beautifully printed on Oxford Fine White Paper.

"This magnificent altar book measures 12 x 5 inches. It has 252 pages. It is printed in large, heavy type, in the best style of the Oxford University Press."—The Church Standard, Nov. 14, 1903.

"The book is printed in great primer type similar to the edition common in our churches and found upon most of our altars, and is handsomely made and bound with every mark of the perfection which adheres to all the products of the Oxford Press."—The Living Church, Nov. 7, 1903.

"Printed in type sufficiently large and displayed to be read by one of ordinary eyesight at three or four feet distance, and even the cheaper bindings in which it is furnished are sufficiently durable and rich in appearance to make the book a worthy ornament in the ecclesiastical sense of that term."—The Churchman, Nov. 14, 1903.

THE ISSUES OF LIFE

By MRS. JOHN VAN VORST

Second printing before publication

Mrs. Van Vorst's striking work in "The Woman Who Toils" brought from Mr. Roosevelt that vigorous "race-suicide" letter which added a new phrase to our contemporary language; and this convincing novel deals with the same question among the more intelligent and cultivated classes. It pictures the modern women's clubs and is sure to arouse endless discussion. $1.50

Our Newest Books

STONY LONESOME
By ARTHUR J. RUSSELL

This is a story of a New England town inhabited by a "gang" of boys, with here and there a parent or an "Uncle Ellery" to give background for their pranks and plottings. Its character drawing is photographic, its dialogue irresistible, and its humor contagious. It presents a series of kodak pictures of boy life such as will make glad the heart of any one who was ever a boy or wanted to be one.

There are over two hundred marginal drawings by Ruth M. Hallock. Cloth, 12mo, 166 pages, $1.00.

CONFESSIONS OF MARGUERITE
The Story of a Girl's Heart.—Anonymous

The subtitle suggests the intimate quality of these "confessions," which are for obvious reasons published anonymously. The story of Marguerite's life is told frankly, and her observations on Chicago and its ideals are often profound and startling. It is a book to arouse discussion both for its revelations and for its accusations. Cloth, 12mo, 264 pages, $1.25.

In Preparation

A LITTLE FOUNTAIN OF LIFE
By MARION FOSTER WASHBURNE

A refreshing love story, full of humor and touched with pathos. The character drawing suggests "Mrs. Wiggs," in fact "Miss 'Postrophy U" might well have lived in the cabbage patch.

EVERYDAY ESSAYS
By MARION FOSTER WASHBURNE

These are not "literary" essays but intimate and delightful talks on everyday subjects which concern and interest women, such as "The Day When Everything Goes Wrong," "Every Morning's Comedy," and "The Spirit of Christmas."

Illustrated with 15 full-page drawings in sepia by Ruth M. Hallock.

A reprint of a delightful American classic, for more than a century out of print, but having a graceful English style, a love of nature, and a cheerful optimism and humor that make it as fresh and readable to-day as it was one hundred years ago.

PRACTICAL TRACK AND FIELD ATHLETICS

By JOHN GRAHAM, Athletic Instructor at Harvard University, and ELLERY H. CLARK, American Champion All-round Athlete, Chairman of the Committee on Hygiene and Physical Training, Boston Public Schools. 16mo, 6 x 8 inches, with upwards of fifty illustrations. Pages 112. $1.00 net; postage, 10c.

A systematic guide and handbook for the modern athlete, by men well known to the sporting world, with upwards of fifty illustrations made from instantaneous photographs of famous athletes in the actual performance of their particular events.

A PORTFOLIO OF REAL CHILDREN

By JESSIE WILLCOX SMITH. 11 x 12 inches. Price, $3.00.

Seven pictures, beautifully reproduced in color, representing the most recent work of this extraordinarily popular artist of child life; each picture separately mounted, and the whole enclosed in a handsome portfolio.

READY MARCH TWENTY-FIFTH

A KNIGHT OF COLUMBIA

By GENERAL CHARLES KING

A STORY OF THE WAR. Illustrations by GEORGE GIBBS

IN this charming and romantic novel, General King seems to have surpassed all previous efforts. The hero, a graduate of Columbia College, first meets the reader in the Academy of Music, New York City, on the occasion of Commencement Day, in 1861, at the breaking out of the war. His magnificent speech, "A Menace to the Flag," delivered on that occasion, full of the fire of patriotism, created the most intense excitement, the vast audience expressing their approval or otherwise according to their political preferences, for as yet the question of "which flag" was unsettled in the hearts of many. Then comes his enlistment, and he is fully launched on the troubled seas of those stirring times. His varied fortunes are closely followed, both in love and war, there being two fervent love stories running through the entire book. The plot is intricate and exciting, holding the reader in a tense grasp from start to finish. The historical scenes of battle are depicted in a manner worthy of this talented author, who now tells for the first time The Truth About Chancellorsville, exonerating the Ill-Fated Eleventh Corps from the odium that has always been heaped upon it, thus flatly contradicting previous accounts. This alone will be of great interest to soldier and also to civilian. The atrocities of the mob during the draft riots in New York come in for stirring descriptions, and altogether the story is one "to warm the cockles of the heart" and arouse that healthy and vigorous enthusiasm that we all enjoy.

CHAPTER CAPTIONS

1.—Chums.
2.—Assault the First.
3.—Doubts and Fears.
4.—A Stab in the Back.
5.—Away to the Front.
6.—Trooper Rex.
7.—A Ride of Mishaps.
8.—What the Letters Said
9.—Strange Witnesses at Bull Run.
10.—Strange Symptoms at Brookside.
11.—The Skeleton in the Closet.
12.—A Double Mystery.
13.—Disguise.
14.—Significant Evidence.
15.—Court-Martial.
16.—The Face in the Firelight.

TO LIBRARIANS

R. H. HINKLEY COMPANY beg to announce the immediate publication, in fourteen volumes, of

The Holy Bible

CONTAINING THE

OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS AND THE APOCRYPHA

Printed by D. B. UPDIKE at the Merrymount Press, Boston.

THE novel points of the present edition of the Bible are as follows:

The Bible is reprinted as a piece of literature—against which there is no reason except usage.

II

The text of the book is brought more clearly before the reader by rational paragraphing.

III

The arbitrary numbering of verses—a very late expedient—has been abandoned.

IV

While the beginning of each chapter is indicated typographically, no actual break is made in the narrative because of a chapter division.

V

Those portions which are considered poetry, like the Psalms, etc., are printed as poetry; the prose as prose.

VI

Interpolated words are no longer printed in Italic type, but are given in the same type as the rest of the text.

With these changes the presentation of the book is the same as that of any other piece of literature. It can thus be read in the same form in which we are accustomed to read all great classics. It is because the Bible has never been printed in an intelligent way that the reading of it is a task, when it ought to be a delight.

Circular and Sample Pages will be Mailed on Application to

Annual American Catalogue

CUMULATED, 1900–1903

THE ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE, Cumulated, including in one alphabet a record of the books published in the four years, 1900, 1901, 1902, and 1903, will be ready next week, and we invite your subscription for this important trade and library "help." This work following the general plan of cumulation adopted by The Publishers' Weekly, gives entries by author, by title, by subject, and by series, including date of publication and price, and indication whether or not the book is included in the American Publishers' Association net schedule. Thus a book may be reached at one glance, from almost any point of information which a customer may have in mind.

It is generally recognized by the trade that this work is the most satisfactory in plan of any system yet devised. It gives the cheap reprints in a separate division, arranged practically by publishers' names, and embraces a directory of publishers whose books are included in the Catalogue, with street addresses. The price for this four-year catalogue is $4 in cloth.

The ANNUAL ENGLISH CATALOGUE, for which we have the American market, is a useful complement to this volume, and can be had in cloth for $1.50, or bound with the ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE in one volume, cloth, $5.00 net.
